

Operator consoles for Transport Canada's National Aerial Surveillance Program's

ST Airborne Systems AB, a subsidiary company to BAM has been awarded a new contract to continue their support to Transport Canada's National Aerial Surveillance Program's (NASP) operation. The new contract covers equipping a new Dash 8-100 aircraft with the MSS 7000 Airborne Maritime Surveillance System. The contract also includes an upgrade of the mission systems onboard the three aircraft already in operation (two Dash 8 and one Dash 7).

BAM will provide two upgraded operator consoles optimized for the Dash 8.
